WATER INTENSIVE INDUSTRY

The I-72 Corridor has a virtually limitless supply of potable water for your business!

Industries that use high amounts of water such as wet grain milling, malt manufacturing, food processing, and power generation and supply could find the I-72 Corridor to be a great location for operations. Being situated along the Mississippi and Illinois Rivers creates a number of opportunities for those industries dependent upon water supply. Whether it's shipping and receiving product or access to potable water for production, our region can supply your company the water it needs! Our region's water is supplied by the Mississippi and Illinois River alluvials and which makes it virtually limitless.

Our friend, Janet Ady tends to agree that access to water could be a driver for future business location siting.
